Empowering Addiction Recovery through Technology

By Murphy Jensen, co-founder and SVP business development of WEconnect Recovery and Daniela Tudor, co-founder and CEO of WEconnect Recovery

In the workers' comp world, we've seen the consequences of addiction and substance abuse affecting the lives of injured workers and their families. That's why we're partnering with WEconnect Recovery to create a series of articles that dive into the impact of this problem and solutions brought about by technology.

While we have compassion for Buster Keaton in his dangerous balancing act, we also know that he appreciated a good laugh.

Help him out by giving him a clever caption.

From the movie "Neighbors" featuring Buster Keaton and Virginia Fox. This 1920 film may only be 18 minutes, but it packs a lot of laughs.

Why You Need Compassionate and Experienced Nurses

By Debra Spamer, vice president of business development

Any nurse triage service will boast they have high-quality nurses. Nurses that have experience. Nurses that are prepared for any situation. Nurses that can recommend the right thing to do.

Well you should sure hope so!

To truly stand out from the crowd, nurse triage services need to do more than just provide injured workers with proper care.

So, what sets apart the Company Nurse triage team? Compassion. Read on here.
